a Rosie and Wallace story.
My name is Rosie. I am going to write a diary about the kookaburra eggs.
Week 1

Mrs Burra has been sitting in her nest for more than three days. I wonder when she will lay her eggs.

Mr Burra flies back to the nest with food for Mrs Burra.

Week 2

There are two eggs in the nest!

When I saw the eggs, I clapped my wings! I was so happy!

But no-one was happier than Mr and Mrs Burra.

Mr Burra said that the eggs will hatch in about a week. I hope the babies will like me!

Week 4

Today, when I went to see Mr and Mrs Burra, I could hear a tap, tap, tap.

Mrs Burra said, “That is the baby tapping the egg with its beak.”

Week 5

I spent the day with my two new friends, Chuckle and Giggle. I hope they learn to fly before the men cut down the tree.
