Introduction

Aims of the project

The Next Step survey is an annual survey of every student who completed Year 12 in the previous year in Queensland, in Government and non-Government schools. The survey results show the initial study and work destinations of young people after completing school.

The objectives of the survey are to assist:

- parents and the wider public to know the pathways of young people after completing Year 12 and to appreciate the range of options available to students
- schools to review and plan their services for students, especially in the senior years of schooling
- school system personnel to review their education policies as they affect the transition from school to further study and employment
- training bodies, universities, business and industry, local government and regional planners to plan their services.

The survey follows the destinations of students who completed Year 12 at Government schools, Catholic schools, independent schools and TAFE secondary colleges.

Methodology

The Next Step 2010 survey was conducted by the Department of Education and Training through the Office of the Government Statistician (OGS), in accordance with the privacy provisions of the Statistical Returns Act 1896.

The survey targeted students who completed Year 12 in Queensland in 2009, including students at government schools, non-government schools and TAFE secondary colleges. All students who were awarded a Senior Statement were included.

The targeted students were identified by means of a survey frame (or list) provided to the OGS by the Queensland Studies Authority (QSA). This list contained details for 44 526 Year 12 completers who were deemed in-scope for this survey.

The survey was conducted between 30 March and 12 May 2010, approximately six months after the young people left school. This timing was designed to be after tertiary education places for 2010 were accepted, and while most of these young people were still contactable via their 2009 home address details.

Responses were predominantly collected via computer-assisted telephone interviewing (CATI), with paper-based and web-based surveys collected from a small number of students for whom telephone details were not available. The average time for a completed interview was less than four minutes.

Prior to the survey, all Year 12 completers were sent a letter from the Queensland Minister for Education and Training advising them of the survey. Those without usable telephone details but with a usable Australian or international address were sent a printed copy of the questionnaire and a reply paid envelope.

Completed paper-based questionnaires were returned directly to OGS for processing and data entry. All responding Year 12 graduates went into a draw for a chance to win one of several prizes offered as an incentive to encourage survey participation.

At the close of the survey, nearly all non-responding students for whom telephone numbers were available had received at least six attempts of contact. Non-responding students without telephone numbers were mailed two copies of the questionnaire. A total of 36 638 completed surveys were received. Of these, 42 were collected via a web survey, 127 by mail and 36 469 by CATI.

Regional reports are based on statistical divisions used by the Australian Bureau of Statistics.

For this region – Brisbane – a total of 17 696 completed surveys were received resulting in a response rate of 83.1 per cent.

Please note that some survey participants did not provide information for particular survey questions. As a result, the number of responses shown in some tables may not reflect the totals reported for the main destinations appearing in Table 2.

Students were allocated to this region on the basis of the location of the school they attended in 2009. These data are shown in the Appendix (Table A2A).

Main Findings

At the time of the survey:

Destinations

- Nearly nine in ten (88.9 per cent) Year 12 completers in this region were studying or in paid employment. (Figure 1)
- More than two thirds (67.0 per cent) continued in some recognised form of education and training in the year after they left school. (Figure 1)
- More than four in ten were undertaking a university degree (43.8 per cent). (Figure 1)
- Nearly a quarter (23.2 per cent) were studying vocational education and training (VET). (Figure 1)
- Almost six in ten of the campus-based VET students were studying at Certificate IV level or higher (8.1 per cent of Year 12 completers overall). (Figure 1)
- One in eleven (9.1 per cent) were undertaking employment-based training, either as an apprentice (6.3 per cent) or trainee (2.9 per cent). (Figure 1)
- In addition to the above study destinations, a further 5.3 per cent of Year 12 graduates from this region deferred a tertiary offer in 2010 (deferrers are shown in Figure 1 in their actual current destination and in Figure 3 as deferrers).
- One third (33.0 per cent) did not enter post-school education or training and were either employed (21.9 per cent), looking for work (9.1 per cent) or neither working, seeking work or studying (2.1 per cent). (Figure 1)

Learning: education and training destinations

Amongst the 67.0 per cent of Year 12 completers continuing in some form of education or training the most common fields of study were Society and Culture (e.g. Arts, Law), Management and Commerce (e.g. Business, Tourism), Health, and Engineering and Related Technologies. (Table 4)

The University of Queensland, Queensland University of Technology, and Griffith University were the three tertiary institutions most commonly entered by Year 12 completers, accounting for over half of Year 12 completers (57.8 per cent) in post-school education and training destinations. (Table 5)

Earning: employment destinations

Of those Year 12 graduates working, more than seven in ten were in part-time employment (73.4 per cent), while 12.9 per cent were in full-time employment, 9.4 per cent were apprentices and 4.3 per cent were trainees. (Table 6)

More than one-half of all Year 12 completers in employment (51.3 per cent) were working in just two occupational groups — Sales Assistants and Food Handlers. Sales Assistants were the most common occupational group (42.1 per cent), with the next most common being Food Handlers (9.1 per cent), followed by Clerks, Receptionists and Secretaries (7.4 per cent). (Table 7)

Not learning or earning

The survey identified 9.1 per cent of Year 12 graduates who were seeking work. (Figure 1)

A further (2.1 per cent) of Year 12 graduates were neither studying nor seeking work. This group includes those with a disability or health condition, and those travelling or waiting for their course to commence. (Figure 1)

The most common main reasons given for not continuing in study were that young people wanted a break from study (for example to travel), were undecided and considering their options, were not interested in further study and waiting for the course/ training to begin. (Table 9)

Different people, different pathways

The survey found different patterns for different groups of young people.

Sex

There were differences in the destinations of males and females. In particular:

- Females were more likely than males to enter a university degree course (48.7 per cent compared to 38.7 per cent of males), but just as likely to enrol in campus-based VET programs (14.2 per cent compared to 13.8 per cent of males). (Table 2)
- Males were more than six times as likely as females to enter an apprenticeship, while females were more likely to commence a traineeship. (Table 2)
- Females were more than three times as likely to study in the field of Education and twice as likely to study in the field of Health and Food, Hospitality and Personal Services. (Table 4)
- Males were ten times as likely as females to enrol in Engineering and Related Technologies courses, and six times as likely to enrol in Information Technology. They were four times as likely as females to enrol in Architecture and Building courses. (Table 4)
- Females were more likely than males to be working in part-time jobs (80.3 per cent compared to 65.4 per cent), and just as likely to be working in full-time jobs (12.2 per cent compared to 13.5 per cent of males). (Table 6)

VET students in schools

Five in ten Year 12 graduates in this region left school with a VET qualification (51.3 per cent), while 10.2 per cent were school-based apprentices or trainees (SATs).

Those with a VET qualification were less likely to enrol in a university degree course than others (28.1 per cent compared to 60.4 per cent). However, they had higher rates of transition to employment-based training (13.0 per cent compared to 5.1 per cent). They were also more likely to enter employment with no further education and training (27.7 per cent compared to 15.8 per cent). (Table 12)

School-based apprentices and trainees were six times as likely to undertake apprenticeships and traineeships after school as other Year 12 completers (36.0 per cent compared to 6.1 per cent). (Table 13)

Overall Position/International Baccalaureate Diploma

Of those awarded an Overall Position/International Baccalaureate Diploma (OP/IBD), three quarters (77.8 per cent) Year 12 completers entered into further education and training with university being the main destination (63.6 per cent). However, the survey showed that those not awarded an OP or an IBD had a higher rate of transition into employment-based training (19.5 per cent compared to 3.6 per cent) and employment without further education and training (32.6 per cent compared to 16.2 per cent). (Table 14)

Those not awarded an OP or an IBD were more than three times as likely to be seeking work as those awarded an OP or an IBD (17.3 per cent compared to 4.7 per cent). (Table 14)

Disability

The survey was not able to identify students with a disability, but did include those who were awarded a Queensland Certificate of Individual Achievement (QCIA), which is intended for students with an impairment or difficulties in learning that are not primarily due to socioeconomic, cultural and/or linguistic factors.

Among QCIA completers, 34.8 per cent were studying, with a high proportion doing VET Certificate I-II courses (29.8 per cent). Another 13.5 per cent were employed, with part-time jobs accounting for 11.8 per cent with the remainder in full-time jobs (1.7 per cent).

A high proportion were neither studying nor in the labour force (27.0 per cent) and a further 18.5 per cent were seeking work. (Table 15)

Queensland Certificate of Education

Over three quarters (82.6 per cent) of respondents to the survey received a Queensland Certificate of Education (QCE). Those with a QCE were more likely to enrol in a university degree course than others (51.2 per cent compared to 8.7 per cent). However, those not awarded a QCE were more likely to enter employment-based training (12.1 per cent compared to 8.5 per cent) and employment with no further education and training (29.4 per cent compared to 20.3 per cent). (Table 16)

Those not awarded a QCE were also three times as likely to be seeking work as those awarded a QCE (20.9 per cent compared to 6.6 per cent). (Table 16)

Indigenous

Indigenous Year 12 completers were less likely than their non-Indigenous peers to enrol at university (20.8 per cent compared to 44.2 per cent). Nonetheless, 56 Indigenous young people who completed the survey commenced university studies in 2010. (Table 17)

Indigenous students were more likely to be an apprentice or trainee (11.5 per cent compared to 9.1 per cent) but just as likely to have a main destination of working (both 21.9 per cent). (Table 17)

Indigenous Year 12 completers were less likely than their non-Indigenous counterparts to enrol in campus-based VET courses (10.8 per cent compared to 14.1 per cent). (Table 17)

Indigenous Year 12 completers were more likely to be seeking work than their non-Indigenous peers (29.0 per cent compared to 8.8 per cent). (Table 17)

Language background other than English

Year 12 completers with a language background other than English (LBOTE) were more likely to enrol at University (51.3 per cent compared to 42.8 per cent) and more likely to enrol in campus-based VET courses (20.7 per cent compared to 13.4 per cent). (Table 18)

LBOTE students were less likely to be in employment-based training (2.8 per cent compared to 9.8 per cent). They were also less likely to enter employment without further education and training (10.9 per cent compared to 23.0 per cent). (Table 18)

Socioeconomic status

Transition to post-school education and training was strongly associated with socioeconomic status (SES), increasing consistently from 54.0 per cent for the lowest SES quartile to 75.7 per cent for the highest SES quartile. (Table 19)

Regional comparisons

Year 12 completers in Brisbane Region had similar post-schooling destinations to all South-East Queensland Year 12 completers, although more were likely to enter university than Year 12 completers in Queensland generally. Further, those in Brisbane Region were less likely to be engaged in working with no further education and training than those statewide. (Figure 2)

Year 12 completers not in education or training in the Brisbane Region had similar employment destinations to South-East Queensland Year 12 completers generally, and to Year 12 completers statewide. (Figure 5)

The occupations and industry categories of Year 12 completers in the Brisbane Region were similar to those of Year 12 completers statewide. (Table 7 and Table 8)

The main reasons given for not studying by Brisbane Region Year 12 completers resemble those of South-East Queensland and statewide. (Table 10)

Brisbane Region Year 12 completers who were not learning, not earning and not seeking work, main reasons for not seeking work resembles those of South-East Queensland and statewide. (Table 11)

Comparisons over time

Comparisons between the destinations of Year 12 graduates from Brisbane Region for the years 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010 reveal changes and emerging trends. The 2010 data when compared to the 2009 data show a continued decrease in working full-time and an increase in seeking work as a destination.

Emerging trends over the five years show a decline in traineeships and an increase in enrolling in a university degree.. (Figure 4)

More information on the survey is available at www.education.qld.gov.au/nextstep.
