

This package of curriculum resources provides learning opportunities for students to continue their educational development and progress while not being able to access a school.

It is anticipated that the resources could be used in a variety of contexts, including teacher-directed, parent-supported or students working independently.

As students work through these resources, it is important that regular contact be maintained between classroom teachers and parents/students.

No assessment lessons or tasks are included in this package.

Structure

The materials contained in this package include:

- lessons including links to resources
- sheet answers.

Lessons

There are three lessons contained in this package. These lessons are treated as one extended lesson.
