Support services to non-state schools

The Department of Education (the department) is transitioning Queensland state schools to the Students with disability – Reasonable adjustment resourcing \(RAR\).

Support services to non-state schools

Supports provided to non-state schools by departmental officers including Advisory Visiting Teachers have not changed.

The department continues to provide supports and services to non-state schools, as outlined in the Memorandum of Agreement—Special Education Services and Dual Enrolment 2020–2022 (MOA).

The department will continue to provide the following services to non-state schools in throughout 2022 and 2023:

- EAP verification for the categories of hearing, physical and vision impairment
- Advisory Visiting Teacher services for students in the EAP categories of hearing, physical and vision impairment including supporting non-state schools to complete EAP verifications
- Equipment loan and trial service
- Vision impairment services
- Dual enrolment program options
- Hospital education program service
- Nationally Consistent Collection of Data on School Students with Disability cross-sector moderation.
